AN ASL TWINS PROJECT PLAN

General Overview

This ASL TWINS project aims to share experiences and impressions of events held at school. These could be events such as sports meetings, music concerts, performing art, or exhibitions. Students will learn about the similarities and differences between school events in both countries. Students will be made aware how important events are and how all students enjoy it regardless of their circumstances. This project will help students to understand what events in their TWIN school look like and that it is not always a matter of great resources to make events successful.

Key areas covered

This project can span across many different school subjects as well as providing the students with the opportunity to explore various global dimension themes:

- Sport
- Art
- Music
- Home science

Method

- The TWINS Coordinators of both schools agree to share this project and set a deadline for its completion
- The teachers agree on how the project will be presented
- Students work as a class or in small groups to research the project.
- During or after an event the students collect information.
- Once the relevant information has been collected by students (using the Internet, Library, questioning local authorities, questioning community members, consulting, interviewing spectators and participants, etc.) the project will be prepared to be exchanged with the TWIN school overseas
- A class is held to analyse and discuss the findings – focusing on the differences of the events, how they are managed, if improvement are needed, etc.

The Final Product

On completion, this project can include:

- Illustrations or photos
- Quotes from people interviewed
- Information about the concept of the event, aims, information about the participants, insight into the planning process, etc.
